Self-Ev. # 12

“Don't cry because it's over, smile because it happened.”

— Dr. Seuss

1. If you could be any mythical creature, which would you choose?

2. What is one thing you wish you could say to someone and not get in trouble for it (you don't have to be specific-it can be general , such as you want to tell people they're annoying—don't use this one, haha!)

3. Is it better to have loved and have the person you love never love you back, or is it better never to fall in love?

4. What is the most important truth you think is necessary to know in order to understand the human condition?

5. If the world were flat, do you think we'd fall when we came to the edge?

6. If you had to be executed what method would you choose?

7. anything else you'd like to add? What would be your last meal?
